THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1912

THE SQUARE DEAL

AS defined by Mr. Roosevelt, the square deal means an equal chance for every man. The political developments of the last three or four days in Colorado show very plainly that whoever gets a square deal in this state will have to fight for it—at least in the political campaign just beginning.

Today we print a statement signed by Philip B. Stewart, as chairman of the Advisory Committee of the Progressive Republican League of Colorado, in which he briefly reviews present political conditions in this state. Boiled down to essentials, Mr. Stewart's statement is a demand for presidential primaries, voiced in behalf of the thousands of Republicans in Colorado who honestly believe not merely in the justice but also in the necessity of this measure.

In his statement Mr. Stewart reviews the proceedings of the progressive conference in Chicago a few days ago, participated in by the governors of eight states and by representatives of twenty other states, in which emphatic expression was made as to the impossibility of the Taft candidacy. The men in attendance—and certainly an inspection of the list will suffice to dispel any doubts as to their ability to speak with authority—declared positively that Taft could not carry their respective states in the election next November. Some of them opposed him because they disagreed on principle with his political views. Others opposed him merely as a matter of political expediency. But it is important to note that whatever the reason might be, all of them objected seriously to his renomination.

Here in Colorado it is fair to assume that there are somewhere between 125,000 and 135,000 people, eligible voters, who under ordinary circumstances will vote the Republican ticket next fall. There is a very decided difference of opinion as to whether a majority favor the candidacy of Taft or that of Roosevelt—for now that the La Follette boom has collapsed, Roosevelt remains as the only important opponent of the present executive. The opinion of The Gazette, as frequently expressed in these columns, is that Roosevelt, or any other progressive candidate, would command the support of an overwhelming majority of Colorado Republicans. But our friends who adhere steadfastly to the regular wing of the party vigorously maintain the contrary view. Thus we are in a deadlock. Plainly, there is only one way to learn the truth—that is, to submit the question to the people.

A JUST AND FAIR MEASURE

There are a half dozen states in the Union in which presidential primaries have already been authorized by statute. By this is meant the holding of a primary election early in the spring in which the voter of either party can say at the polls whether he favors one or another candidate for the presidential nomination. At the Republican primary the voter is given a ticket bearing the name of Taft, La Follette, Cummins, Roosevelt, and any other men who may be in the race, and he can thus vote his preference. The state delegation in the National Republican convention is thus bound to abide by the will of a plurality of the Republican voters, as expressed in the primaries. In like fashion the delegation in the Democratic convention is instructed as to the feeling of the Democratic constituency.

The scheme is absolutely right and absolutely just, because it is absolutely representative of the popular will. The people go to the polls and express their choice, and the delegates obey their instruction. There is no misinterpretation; no misrepresentation.

We agree fully with Mr. Stewart's expression as to the desirability of presidential primaries in Colorado. We believe that this measure is fundamental; that it is one of the half dozen which must be passed in the long and arduous journey toward the ultimate goal. It is one of the essential measures without which the people cannot regain control of their own affairs. No valid contention against it can be made. If the people are competent to say, by their votes in a national election, who shall be President of the United States, surely they are equally competent to say by their votes in a primary election who shall represent their party as the head of its national ticket. If they are not to be trusted with one responsibility, they are not to be trusted with the other. Conversely, if they are fit to assume one burden, they are fit to assume both.

We challenge anybody to dispute this contention. We never have heard an argument against it, and we are informed that even the members of the State Committee who voted against presidential primaries at the meeting last Monday frankly admitted that they did so, not because there was a sound reason for their course, but because they had been given the tip that it would be best to stand pat.

Our opposition to Mr. Taft is based wholly upon an honest belief in his temperamental unfitness for the position of Chief Executive of this nation, as shown by his record. As a justice of the Supreme Court—the place to which he first aspired—he doubtless would have been wholly successful. But the history of his three years in the presidency shows conclusively that whatever his talents in other directions may be, he lacks the qualities that make a successful executive.

GIVE THE PEOPLE A CHANCE

It is possible that the Republican voters of Colorado, if given an opportunity to express their choice in a presidential primary, will differ profoundly with this view. We hope not, but at any rate we believe absolutely in the right and justice of giving them—and the voters of other parties also—a chance to say who they want to head their respective tickets. By all means, let us have presidential primaries. Let us learn from the people themselves whether they want Roosevelt, Taft, La Follette or Cummins to be the presidential nominee on the Republican ticket; whether they want Wilson, Harmon, Underwood, Clark or Bryan to head the Democratic ticket. If, after such decision is made, any of us care to bolt, it is our own right and privilege. But at any rate we shall then know the actual desire of the people of our state, and we cannot know in any other way.

The demand for presidential primaries which Mr. Stewart voices in behalf of the progressive Republicans of Colorado is right and just. Nothing that he says can be gainsaid. No opponent of the measure will come out in the open and state the reasons for his opposition. It is fair, it is honest. It gives every man an equal chance. We can quite understand why a candidate who is afraid of the people—who is doubtful of his good opinion of himself—should be unwilling to enter such a contest; and we can understand why the henchmen of such a candidate should be unwilling to venture his fortunes in such a fight. But the man whose record is clean, who is confident of his place in the public esteem, has nothing to lose by a submission of his claims to the people in a primary election.

It is for the Republican County Central Committee of El Paso County to say whether or not a Republican presidential primary shall be held in this county. And we will have it—provided a majority of that committee is willing to trust the people.

FROM OTHER PERS.

A POOR RICH BOY.
Public attention is directed and sympathy evoked by the case of a boy, the son of a defunct tipplé magnate, the heir to $100,000, who, while the mother is adorning foreign courts is kept under guard in a New Jersey mansion. He cannot walk out in the grounds without the attendance of a maid and governess. To go outside the walls he must be attended by coachman and footman in addition to his constant feminine suite. Of course, all his food is sterilized so moved up as any of the traditional joys of boyhood seems an offense against nature. What memories are left to him who knows nothing of the delights of mud pies in infancy and swimming holes in a more advanced stage? What ambitions are to be cherished to one who cannot try to learn baseball before he can throw a ball to first base or swing a club? Of course, the yearning for a gun is strictly denied. He cannot know the wild delight of hurling down hill "belly whoppers" and being piled in a mass of boys and sleds at the bottom; of shinswinging on your own sled; he is oblivious of roasting on open fires; he knows no night, and the uses of "rocks," the excitement of marbles, hop-scotch with other boys generally held, incursions into orchards and gardens and the eating of impossible things are sealed books to him.

No greater sign of the poverty of such a boyhood can we imagine than his inability to secure a collection of things in his pockets, from snakes and toads to the bits of air light burners, which constitute the treasures of each genuine urchin. What a barren manhood the misguided guardians of this poor youth are preparing for him!

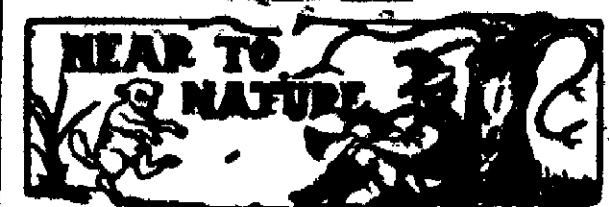

GROWTH OF THE GIRARD ESTATE

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.
No local institution is the source of more pride and satisfaction than the Girard estate, which is under the care of the board of city trustees. Its growth has been constant for many years and never was the capital so large as now, while its net earnings are at the maximum. This has not been considered a notable year in business, but the estate has made large gains.

Although Girard left sums to various institutions and for a number of rather unusual purposes, the bulk of his wealth went to the college which bears his name. Here some 1,500 boys and young men are constantly educated for such callings as seem suited to their capacities. It is notable that the opposition to this institution, which was bitter for a long time after its foundation, has disappeared. Even in the memory of many of our readers there was a prejudice against it because of its attitude toward the regularly ordained Christian clergy, due to some peculiar notions of the founder. In practice, however, the college has received a Christian training and a better ethical preparation for life than is to be found in many institutions of a denominational character.

In a line of trained workers just issued only a few lines are devoted to the fact that the great motor made an effort to upset the will of Stephen T. Ward because it was supposed to be against public opinion to permit the establishment of a college opposed to Christian doctrine. It was Horace Binney of this city who defended the will in a masterly argument showing that it was Christian and charitable, and saved the institution which is now doing a work whose power for good is incalculable and whose future seems destined to be more helpful and glorious than the great achievements of past generations.

Sunflower Philosophy.

The boy stood on the burning deck a long, long time ago, and people viewed the fire swept wreck, and said: "I told you so. I asked you forty thousand times to have your ship insured, and now you're punished for your crimes—you'll be well smoked and cured!" Another watched the fire's red raids, and said: "It serves him right!" I tried to tell him hand grenades—he simply wouldn't bite. A third remarked: "It's proper luck!" I offered him one day's first-class hook and ladder-trunk—he chafed me away! The boy stood on the burning deck until he thought he'd baked them, wrapped his whiskers round his neck and jumped into the lake. He couldn't swim—he had a quail. His chance seemed mighty slim. 'Twas then that Mary's little lamb swam out and rescued him.

NOTED BRITISH NAVAL OFFICER, AGED 77, DEAD

LONDON, Feb. 14.—Admiral of the fleet Sir Nowell Salmon died today at the age of 77. Until his retirement in 1905, after serving 38 years in the navy he was one of the most popular officers in the fleet. He was one of the rare possessors of the Victoria cross which he won for bravery in the field in the Indian mutiny. The courageous act for which Admiral Sir Nowell Salmon was awarded the Victoria cross was done during the second relief of Lucknow in 1857.

He was attached as lieutenant to the naval brigade and while the sailors were attacking a strongly occupied fort they suffered from the extraordinary marksmanship of one of the rebels. Salmon volunteered to climb a tree which exposed him to almost certain death in order to pick off the Indian marksmen. His field glass was shattered in his hand by the sharpshooter but Salmon took aim and shot the Sepoy dead.

THE DAILY CHIT-CHAT.

They say that if you are willing to buy outright, to wait long enough and to take reasonable gains, you can be practically sure of making money on the stock exchange.

I don't know much about that. My one and only experience certainly hasn't given me reason for such an opinion. But I do know of one direction in which, if you wait long enough, are willing to take reasonable gains, use discretion and common sense, and know what you want far enough ahead, you are absolutely sure of making money—or rather saving it which is exactly the same thing.

And that is in bargain hunting.

The bargain-crazy woman who will buy anything at all, whether she has any use for it or not, if only it is advertised as a great bargain, is often ridiculed, and I think she deserves all she gets. But there is a sane and legitimate kind of bargain hunting, of which I think every woman of limited income absolutely ought to be mistress.

A neighbor of mine who has needed to make every cent of her household money tell practices this to perfection. Let me briefly describe her method to you.

This woman devotes a day at the beginning of each season to taking stock of everything in her house, of her husband's clothing, her children's, the bedding, the linen, the furniture, the kitchen utensils, etc.

And at the end of this stock taking, she plans out the family wardrobe for the coming year, and then makes careful lists of all the articles that must be bought during the next few months. These lists she keeps in her top bureau drawer, and also, to a certain extent, in her head, and with them in view she makes a systematic study of every advertisement that comes within her reach. During bargain seasons, such as January and August, she takes two or three newspapers in order to keep in touch with all the shops, and any shop has a list of customers to which it sends advertisements. Circulars, she makes sure that her name is on the list.

As a consequence of this systematic bargain hunting, she is able to buy almost everything she uses, at from 20 to 30 per cent under the staple prices.

For instance, at the beginning of this winter, she noted down that she would need half a dozen sheets and a dozen towels in the course of the next year. One day in January, she saw an advertisement of the sheets she always uses at 30 per cent less than the ordinary price, and she promptly bought half a dozen. In February, she found an opportunity to buy 3 1/2-cent towels for 25 cents a dozen. Had she waited until her sheets and towels actually were out in the spring, she would probably have had to pay staple prices.

She had the children's next summer wardrobe mostly planned in the fall, and by careful watching, found a chance to buy the gingham for their gingham dresses at 15 cents instead of 25.

Of course, to do all this requires a small surplus in the bank, eternal vigilance and a good deal of time. But it is well worth the first of these requirements, and as for the second—well this woman says: "That is my trade. It is my handy business to earn as much money as possible and mine to get as much value as possible out of it. By this method I make five hundred dollars do the work of six or seven. Isn't that worth while to one who has to count the pennies?"

Of course, any woman would find it simpler, pleasanter and more dignified to go shopping just when she felt like it and pay staple prices.

But, then, as for that, might not any man find it simpler, pleasanter and more dignified to work when he felt like it and accept a low salary, instead of working hard for a higher one?

I believe, with my neighbors, that a part of every wife's business is to use her husband's money to the best possible advantage, and surely this systematic bargain hunting is one excellent way of doing that.

The Great Conflict

A Half Century Ago Today

FEBRUARY 16, 1862.

Bowling Green, Ky., was evacuated by the Confederates, and occupied by a Union force under Brigadier General D. C. Buell. The national troops reached the Big Barren river, opposite the city, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, after a hard march of 40 miles in 24 hours. The bridge across the river having been destroyed, the brigade under Colonel Turchin was sent across the river in a flatboat, under cover of a heavy fire from the batteries of field artillery, under Captain Loomis. The Confederates were not in sufficient force to resist General Buell's army, and left the town. It had lost much value as a strategic position because of the recent fire.

The national batteries on Venus Island point, in the Savannah river, were attacked at 3 o'clock in the afternoon by four Confederate gunboats. The gunboats sought to silence or destroy the batteries in order that vessels might pass the point from Fort Pulaski. The engagement was heavy for an hour. It was terminated by a lucky shot that disabled the boat of the Confederate flag officer, which was towed out of action by another of the fleet of gunboats. The steamer that had come with the gunboats from Fort Pulaski to take advantage of the passage they might effect, returned whence it had come.

The Confederates attempted to break through the Federal lines drawn by General Grant about Fort Donelson. They were repulsed and driven into their inner works by a general advance.

Keeping Ahead of Her Neighbor

Copyrighted, 1912, by Laura Jean Libbey.

It is a popular notion, especially in the city, that people hardly ever know their next door neighbors. Girls live year in and year out without having an acquaintance perhaps. With the girls who live in the same block, though so h close rarely ever fall to keep informed of the doings of each other.

If the young woman of one set gives a musical, the girl in the same block below sharpens her wits to keep ahead of her by giving an entertainment and introducing novelties that will be sure to be talked about to bring her into notice. One girl has induced the violinist, who is the talk of the town, to appear at her affair. The other girl seizes upon a whimsical scarf dance. There isn't a young man anywhere about who does not make haste to accept her invitation, even if he has to forego the attendance of the invitation given by the other girl.

"How in the girl do you manage to gather such a bright, enthusiastic crowd when there are so many other affairs going on?" she was often asked. Her vivacious answer was characteristic of the girl. "It's just this," she said. "I make no effort to attract new friends to herself and hold them as well as the old friends should not wonder that they drop away from her and seek other places where the pleasures are up to date. Indeed, a little in advance of the times. This seems to be an age of selfish excitement, and the constant cry is for something new in entertainment."

Was there ever a young fellow who did not vote a girl's "at home" a dreadful bore? He'd make every excuse in the calendar to get out of going if he could. To be sure, he'd see lots of

INCHWAY DIRECTORS CONFERENCE HERE TODAY

Will Work Out Plans for the Central Colorado Route on Interstate Road

Further details in connection with the movement for the construction of the Lincoln highway or Pike's Peak route across the state will be worked out today at the Chamber of Commerce, at a meeting of the directors of the recently formed Lincoln Highway association.

The directors will take up the work as it was left off at the close of the recent meeting in this city. An important feature will be the provision of a plan for financing the scheme. The meeting opens at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The committee on constitution and by-laws will also make its report to the board, and the matter of membership and dues will be passed upon. The subcommittee, which has been working out the financial part, will be ready to report, it is understood.

A vice president from each of the 12 counties which the proposed highway will cross, a county commissioner and another member of the board will attend from each county interested. Leonard, Curtis of this city, president of the association, will preside at the meeting.

JUDGMENT FOR WORK DONE 40 YEARS AGO

The heirs of Frank Flanagan will receive about $4,000 from El Paso county, as the result of a ruling of the state court of appeals, upholding a decision in the district court here several years ago, unless the county is successful in its efforts to secure a rehearing and a verdict in its favor.

Originally the suit of Flanagan against the county for $3,000 alleged to be due for work done under contract on the Ute Pass wagon road back in 1872, was filed in the district court in 1907. The road was built by the county through what is termed a dummy corporation, and the contract, according to the county commissioners, was made with a man named Colton. Colton, it is said, was paid in bonds, which, while it is understood he disposed of at a discount, were paid for in full by the county.

There is absolutely no record, nothing in the way of contract with Flanagan, the county commissioners said yesterday. "As correctly as we have been able to learn, Flanagan was a subcontractor under Colton, and such being the case the county certainly should not be indebted to Flanagan. His claim was for $3,000 originally but the decision of the state court of appeals upholding the district court also carries interest, making the total sum about $4,310."

In the trial of the action here, the district court held that Flanagan had filed a claim against the county in accordance with the statutes, and in affirming this ruling the court of appeals ruled as follows:

"When a claim against a county is filed with the board within a statutory period, the board will not be permitted to invoke the aid of the statute of limitations when it appears that after the claim was filed the claimant prosecuted the same with reasonable diligence and made constant effort to have the commissioners consider the claim on its merits and either approve or disapprove the same. In such a case the running of the general statute of limitations will be arrested until the board has either allowed or rejected the claim."

SHERMAN SERIOUSLY ILL

Gen. L. E. Sherman, one of the oldest and best-known citizens of this city, is again seriously ill at his home, 108 West Boulder street. It is only a few months since General Sherman returned from Canada, where he went for a visit. He was very ill there, but has been slightly improved since his return.

He is being given every attention at his home, where his wife and trained nurses are at his bedside. His condition last night was reported to be about the same.

Gen. Sherman was formerly commander of the department of Colorado and Wyoming, G. A. R.

FOUNTAIN VALLEY VOICES FOR IRRIGATION DISTRICT

Telephone advice from Fountain last night announced that the special election, held yesterday to decide upon the proposed formation of an irrigation district, had carried by a narrow margin. The matter of a $100,000 bond for the irrigation of about 10,000 acres of land, it was said, will not come up for several days.

When it was proposed several weeks ago to incorporate the area of irrigated lands in the mountain valley, residents in the section were equally divided as to the desirability of the project. Of the 10,000 acres in the proposed district, 5,000 are now under the Lincoln Irrigation company. If the bond election is held, it is expected that the bond will be issued to purchase the Lincoln system.

ASSOCIATION IS AGAINST 8-HOUR LAW FOR WOMEN

Laundrymen of Colorado W. Hold Annual Meeting at Antlers Hotel Today and Tomorrow

Plans for a fight against the proposed eight-hour law for women will be worked out at the annual meeting of the Colorado Laundrymen's association in Colorado Springs today and tomorrow. Meetings will be held at the Antlers hotel.

If the proposed eight-hour measure becomes a law it will work a great hardship on the laundrymen of the state, said E. J. Davis, proprietor of the Elita Laundry and a vice president of the state association. "If a provision could be made for a 40-hour week law it would be much better. But the laundry business is such that it cannot be guided by a matter of many hours each day. We have to look out for rush orders. Some times we have more business to look after than on other days. Take Saturdays for instance. If we could work eight hours that day then the people would have to wait until Monday for their work."

Colorado Springs laundrymen are peculiarly situated in regard to the eight-hour law. This is a great hardship on the laundrymen of the state, said E. J. Davis, proprietor of the Elita Laundry and a vice president of the state association. "If a provision could be made for a 40-hour week law it would be much better. But the laundry business is such that it cannot be guided by a matter of many hours each day. We have to look out for rush orders. Some times we have more business to look after than on other days. Take Saturdays for instance. If we could work eight hours that day then the people would have to wait until Monday for their work."

SUNDAY ORDINANCE IS PASSED, FIRST READING

Commissioner Frost and his tinkering amendment to the proposed ordinance stood alone at yesterday's meeting of the city council, and the measure was passed four to one on first reading. Commissioner Whitaker wanted a provision in the ordinance that would permit a man to now his lawn or tinkering about the house Sunday if he is so disposed, said Commissioner Frost. None of the other commissioners seconded the Frost motion, however, and the suggested amendment was lost.

Mayor Avery pointed out that he favored an ordinance prohibiting the hauling of coal and other bulky commodities on Sunday in any place open to public view is prohibited, excepting works of necessity or charity. In works of necessity or charity is included whatever is needed during the day for the good order, health or comfort of the city.

"PUBLIC TRAFFIC—Except in cases of absolute necessity, all manner of public selling or offering for sale of any property on Sunday is prohibited, except that meats, lunches, milk, soft drinks, bakery articles, prepared tobacco, fresh fruit, confectionery, newspapers, drugs, medicines and surgical appliances may be sold in a quiet and orderly manner at any time on that day."

SUPPORTERS WOODROW WILSON MEET MONDAY

A meeting of the supporters of Woodrow Wilson as a candidate for the presidency will be held at the Alamo hotel Monday night. The call for the meeting was issued by H. H. Seldman, vice president in this county of the state Woodrow Wilson club. Plans for the organization of a state club will be discussed.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

The annual meeting of the United States Treasury Mining company was held Tuesday afternoon and the following officers were elected: W. W. Hunt, Jameson N. Y. president; J. H. Just Help In Bed

Chide M. Mrs. E. A. Decker writes from Chicago: "I recommended Cardui, the woman's remedy, to my woman in need of a remedy. For five years I was unable to do my own work. Half my time was spent in bed. At last I tried Cardui. Now I am well and happy and can do my own work. Don't suffer pain, headache, backache, and other womanly miseries, when your own druggist has on his shelf a remedy for such troubles. Cardui. Get a bottle for your shelf. As a general tonic, for weak women, nothing has been found for 50 years that would take its place. Try it. It will help you."

HEAD OF RIO GRANDE TO BE SHOWN LOCAL SCENERY

The Chamber of Commerce is making elaborate plans for the entertainment of President B. F. Bush of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad at the time of his visit to Colorado Springs, February 22. An attempt will be made to bring him here in the afternoon so that he may be taken on an automobile trip to the scenic points of the Pike's Peak region.

In the evening Mr. Bush will address the Washington's birthday banquet at the Antlers hotel at which the prominent men of the city will be present. Other high railroad officials from Denver are expected to accompany Mr. Bush on the trip. About 300 diners are expected at the banquet which will begin at 7 o'clock.

HOLD COLLEGE PICNIC WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

The fourth successive attempt to hold an all-Sixers picnic in the Garden of the Gods will be made on Washington's birthday. Plans for such a picnic were made four years ago by Glenn W. Shaw of the class of 1910 and since that time the weather has interfered every Washington's birthday. A committee is at work on the arrangements this year, composed of Lloyd L. Shaw, T. J. Lynch, L. L. Heron, E. P. Morse and Harry L. Black.

The program will consist of a hare and hound chase across the mesa, motorcycle race, mountain climbing contest, cafeteria dinner and several contests between the members of the freshmen and sophomore classes.

GLOBE TROTTER RETURNS

Louis F. Hees the Colorado Springs globe trotter is back home again after an adventurous trip around the world. Years ago Nellie Hees made a swing around the big globe in a motor car, but for adventure and variety of experience Hees journey is hardly surpassed by them all.

He left Colorado Springs the afternoon of July 27, 1910 and it was just 18 months later that he reached Denver three weeks ago. Hees formerly conducted an engraving plant on East Kiowa street, but is now working in Denver. He came to Colorado Springs yesterday to see his old friends.

There isn't enough gold in the state of Colorado that would tempt me to undertake a similar trip again," said Hees last evening. "One is enough for me. I wouldn't take anything for my experience, but at the same time I wouldn't try it again. I left here without a penny and earned my way from start to finish."

But raised by Prince Michael Andronoff in St. Petersburg, employed as a dishwasher on the steamship New York, returning to America, manager of a police lighter in Manila where his man did not make good, cooking in Thailand giving dinner of pork chops in London, living high as the star reporter on the Attonblad of Stockholm, half starved on a tramp steamer from Manila to Colombo, Ceylon—these are just a few of the contrasts in the life of the globe trotter.

Hees visited every important country in the world on his trip, and says that the people of Scandinavia are more like those of America than any others.

"Never again for me," said Hees. "Travel is a great educator, but not the way I traveled. Colorado is good enough for me. If I ever go abroad again it will be as a first-class tourist and with money in my pocket."

FOR ALL MEN AND WOMEN

I will give you free a sample of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, that have brought health and happiness to thousands—also a book on any chronic disease you need.

The story of my free offer to you is quickly told. During my many years of practice I have used numerous combinations of curative medicines for liver ills. I have kept records of results in case after case, so that my staff of physicians and surgeons, at the Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., are able to diagnose and treat cases at a distance with uniform good results. I am going to send you free a sample package of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, which will relieve biliousness and ill health due to a disordered liver. Write at once for a sample or a book.

But for the permanent relief of blood disorders and impurities, I can recommend my "Golden Medical Discovery"—a blood medicine without alcohol.—R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

Nature's Way Is The Best.

Buried deep in our American forest we find bloodroot, queen's root, mandarin and steam root, golden seal, Oregon grape root and cherrybark. Of these Dr. R. V. Pierce made a pure glyceric extract which has been favorably known for over forty years. He called it "GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY."

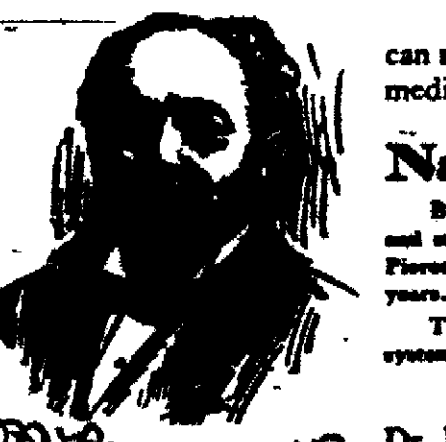

This "Discovery" purifies the blood and tones up the stomach and the entire system in Nature's own way. It's just the tissue builder and tonic you require.

Dr. Pierce says:—"Glyceric plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, heartburn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels."

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on-coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but for all the obstinate, chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken."

Sold by all principal dealers in medicines.

To find out more about the above mentioned diseases and all about the body in health and disease, get the Common Sense Medical Adviser—the People's Schoolmaster in Medicine—revised and up-to-date book of 1000 pages—which treats of diseased conditions and the practical, successful treatment thereof. Cloth-bound sent post-paid on receipt of 31 cents in one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only. Address Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

AMERICAN LEAGUE ADOPTS SCHEDULE

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—Owing to the late arrival of some of the team owners, the American league schedule meeting today lasted but a short time and a continuance was taken until tomorrow. The schedule for the year was adopted today. No objection was offered to the schedule as prepared by the committee.

As usual, the season will consist of 154 games. It will open April 11 and close October 6. Opening games will be played with St. Louis at Chicago, Detroit at Cleveland, Washington at Philadelphia and Boston at New York. Only one deal the sale of Harry H. (Doc) Gessler, an outfielder, by Washington to Kansas City, was announced. Unless the unexpected happens, according to President Charles Somers of the Cleveland club, George Stovall, whose name has been connected with many proposed trades this winter, will remain with that team.

MOTORCYCLE CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

The annual election of officers was held by the Colorado Springs Motorcycle club last evening, and the following officers were elected:

President, Orin G. Lewis; vice president, F. S. Emick; treasurer, H. G. Scholt; secretary, L. S. Johnson; road captain, H. W. Clark; lieutenant, Freeman W. Weatherly; directors, A. A. Penny and Mathew Kraus.

Three enjoyable runs have been held so far this year, each being well attended, and the club is planning a trip to Palmer Lake Sunday for dinner. The meeting place heretofore has been in a motorcycle shop, but meetings and runs will be conducted in the future from the rear of 1013 North Washington avenue where an appropriate building is being fitted up. Meetings will be held every Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

HOLLAND AND BERG FIGHT TO A DRAW

OAKLAND, Cal., Feb. 14.—Fritz Holland of Spokane, and Otto Berg of Oregon, tonight fought 10 rounds to a draw here. The decision was unpopular, the spectators favoring Berg. This is the second time the men have fought, the first fight in Elensburg, Wash., resulting in a draw after 10 rounds of hard fighting.

THREE WONDERFUL BASEBALL STARS WHO REFUSE TO QUIT

By JAMES C. ISAMINGER.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 14.—Three accomplished ball men who neglect to wear out and are as conspicuous in the game as they were years ago are Nap Lajoie, the Cleveland's second baseman, Hans Wagner, the Pittsburgh shortstop, and Christy Mathewson, the Giants' pitcher.

Every one of the three is a glittering constellation of big catchpower. For years they have been the mainstay of their respective teams, and today there is nobody to challenge them that honor.

The oldest in point of service in the big league is Lajoie, who came to Philadelphia in 1898 from Fall River. He was discovered by George Stallings, then manager of the Phillies.

In the 18 consecutive years that King Lajoie has played in the fast set he has failed only twice of entering the 300 class. As a rule, he is far above that mark. Here is Lajoie's wonderful batting record since he was taken off the box of a cab in Fall River:

Year	AVG.
1898-Phillies	.328
1897-Phillies	.367
1896-Phillies	.328
1895-Phillies	.359
1900-Phillies	.348
1901-Athletics	.422
1902-Cleveland	.376
1903-Cleveland	.355
1904-Cleveland	.381
1905-Cleveland	.368
1906-Cleveland	.365
1907-Cleveland	.299
1908-Cleveland	.296
1909-Cleveland	.324
1910-Cleveland	.284
1911-Cleveland	.365

This table shows that Lajoie in 18 years in baseball, so far as slumping in any hitting, was nearly as good as at any time in his career.

He led the American league slugging in 1901, 1903, 1904 and 1905, and in other years was generally near the top. In 1907, when Larry dropped out of the 300 class for the first time in his life, the fans were quick to say that the Frenchman was finally being whipped by nature, and his fall would be dictated then that his fall would be dictated and that he would quickly disappear from the swift set.

Larry slumped again 1908, but it was only a few points, and his showing of .284 was not creditable solely by comparison with his customary extraordinary percentages. Some of the fans said that Larry was dying hard and that 1909 would see his finish.

Instead, Larry jumped back in the 300 class and followed with a .384 average in 1910 and a .368 percentage last year. These figures prove that the Cleveland second sacker is back in the Lajoie stride which makes him one of the most dangerous stick-smiths in America.

There is no reason, bar accident, why he shouldn't be as powerful with the bat next season as last. Time has certainly been kind to Lajoie, who is as nimble and sharp-eyed as he was way back in 1896, when he knocked on the clubhouse door at Broad and Lehigh and said to one of the employees: "Where's Stallings? I'm Lajoie, the new man."

Honus Wagner leaped into a major league box score one year later than his brother wallpaper. He came from the Patterson in the Atlantic league, and the late H. C. Pulliam, president of the National league, is credited with being the Christopher Columbus to discover him.

This was in 1897, and Pulliam was then an officer of the Louisville club. When the Louisville colonels first lapped the bowlegged boy from Car-negie they giggled and wondered whether the club was going to turn into a dime museum. But they soon found that the awkward-looking Georgia could while the ball, and it wasn't long before they were naming new drinks after John Henry.

In the 15 years that Wagner has tormented pitchers he has a grand average of .344. Not once since he has been in the major leagues has he failed to bat above the .300 mark. His lowest percentage in 15 years was	1905	1906	1907	1908	1909	1910	1911	1912

1905	.344	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305
1906	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305
1907	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305
1908	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305
1909	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305
1910	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305
1911	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305
1912	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305	.305

Wagner has eight times carried off the National league championship. His first conquest was in 1906, and he was the monarch of the league no later than last season (which was an epic in sustained hitting ability). Moreover, Wagner was principally responsible for Pittsburgh's pennant triumphs in 1901, 1902, 1903 and 1905. Every season his big bat has kept the Pirates booters in the race.

Honus is still a first-class fielding shortstopper, although not quite so fast as he was some years ago, but he could hold down first base or a position in the outfield to perfection.

Wagner was born in 1874 and will be 38 years old on the 24th of this month. He is the highest paid player in the National league and is independently wealthy.

The other veteran who refuses to wear out is Christy Mathewson, who is today considered by many critics as the best pitcher in the National league. Matty has been pitching at top speed since 1900. He joined the Giants a rookie and in a few months was the talk of baseball.

He pitched New York to pennant victories in 1904, 1905 and 1911, and has always been their mainstay. Matty has never showed the slightest signs of cracking as a pitcher, and the coming season will be his thirteenth in the major leagues. Most pitchers are past before the 10-year mark.

Matty's greatest triumph was to shift out the Athletics three times in the world series of 1905. That will stand as the greatest example of pitching in an important series in modern times.

Matty helped the Giants win the championship last year, but in the world series against the Mackmen he pitched the first setback of his career. He pitched three games against the Athletics, and the Mackmen licked him twice. This was the first time he was ever shown up in a world series.

It must be conceded that Matty was tackling a far superior bunch of Athletics than he did in 1905.

The big pitcher takes good care of himself and ought to have several more winning years with the Giants. What with his big brain, his indomitable courage and his superb control, he is still one of the greatest pitchers in the country.

AMERICUS, ZBYSKO AND DR. ROLLER WIN BOUTS

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 14.—In a wrestling tournament here tonight, "Amerus" of Baltimore defeated Romanoff, the Russian, in straight falls of 25 minutes 21 seconds, and 13 minutes, respectively.

Zbyzsko won from Schmidt, who styles himself the German champion, in straight falls of 23 minutes, and 11 minutes, respectively.

Dr. Roller of Seattle won a fall from Lundin, the Swedish champion, in 15 minutes. Lundin did not resume, claiming his knee had been injured.

DIXON MATCHED TO MEET WHITE, FEB. 28

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 14.—Jimmy Hurst, manager of Tommy Dixon, the featherweight, tonight accepted terms to meet Charlie White of Chicago at Windsor, Ont., the night of February 28. The boys will box eight rounds at 124 pounds. After the Windsor fight Hurst and Dixon will go to California to challenge the winner of the Attell-Kibane bout.

New York Nationals Will Start Earlier

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—New York will join the list of clubs in which the National league ball games are started at an earlier hour than have occurred if the recommendation of Manager M. Gray and Secretary O'Brien to John T. Brush, owner of the local club, is approved. Their plan is to begin the games at 7:30 p. m. The main reason for adhering to the later hour has been that Wall street patrons, who leave the financial district at 6 o'clock, were inconvenienced.

RACING RESULTS

JUAREZ, Feb. 14.—Bourbon, a 12-year-old, 112 pounds, equaled the world record for a mile in a single track today and easily won the first race in 1:32.3. Bourbon had been backed down from 3 to 1 to 10 to 1.

TROTTING ASSOCIATION WILL RETAIN HOPPLES

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—With the election of officers and the authorization of a new southern racing district the biennial congress of the National Trotting association ended today. The board of directors of the new southern district are Senator Joseph W. Bailey of Texas, Samuel Walton of Falls Mills, Va., and John Earley of Lexington, Tenn. P. P. Johnson of Lexington, Ky., was selected president.

Changes in the rules include the adoption of a report of the Rules committee providing that horses with records on mile tracks shall be allowed three seconds when racing on half mile courses.

Stallions hereafter must report to the association any suppression or misrepresentation of the time taken in races.

Despite a warm debate against the rescinding of the rule prohibiting hopple it was decided by a vote of 296 to 61 that hopples may be used in all classes except the two, three or four-year-olds.

Before adjournment the program approved a recent suggestion of Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the United States army, that a superior standard of horses be bred for the army. A resolution was adopted that the trotting horsemen would cooperate in any way they could to carry out the government's desires in this respect.

OU LAW LEAGUE DOOMED TO FALL, SO TIM MURNANE SAYS

By TIM MURNANE

BOSTON, Feb. 14.—With the independent leagues about to make a last kick up the ladder, Tim Murnane, the headstrong manager of the Boston Red Sox, says that the independent leagues are doomed to fall, so Tim Murnane says.

Murnane was a well-known baseball player who followed the Boston Red Sox to the independent leagues. He did not leave the Red Sox until 1907, when he was traded to the Boston Red Sox. He played for the Red Sox for 10 years, and was one of the best players in the league.

CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—Rapidly decreasing supplies with predictions that soon the total stock at Liverpool would be the smallest since the year of the last for corn. The market today is a higher one. The last light corn made a net gain of 1/2 cent to 1/4 cent, and puts it at 1/2 cent. In provisions there was a decline of 1/2 cent to an advance of 1/2 cent.

British cables took the wheat trade by surprise. Northwinding a sharp break yesterday, the foreign exchange heavily without exception showed a decided bullish turn. Liverpool in particular indicated that both the United Kingdom and the continent would make a more emphatic call upon export quantities in the near future. Speculators at first declined to accept the statement that the world's available stock had fallen off as much as 1,000,000 bushels for the week, but the figures were confirmed. May ranged from $1.01 1/2 to $1.02 1/2, with the finish strong at $1.02 1/2, a rise of 1/2 cent.

Belief in greatly reduced farm harvests because of heavy feeding helped corn to score an advance. May fluctuated between $1.01 1/2 and $1.02 1/2, closing firm at $1.02 1/2, a gain of 1/2 cent. The market for wheat was steady. No. 2 yellow was quoted at $1.01 1/2 for car lots.

Grain showed strength, influenced mainly by purchases for bull leaders and by the fact that although receipts continue moderate in volume the call for shipments is urgent from the east. In the previous crowd there was a good demand for shorts who rushed to cover because of the run of hogs to the market. At the close close prices were small. At the close close prices were small. At the close close prices were small.

A GREAT RECORD
Hard to Duplicate It in Colorado Springs.

Score of representative citizens of Colorado Springs testifying for Dean's Kidney Pills. Such a record of local endorsement is unequalled in modern times. This public statement made by a citizen is but one of the many that will follow. Read it.

William Foulkes, 325 S. Cascade Ave., Colorado Springs, Colo., says: "I suffered for five years from kidney trouble. I had backache, was nervous and was often obliged to arise at night to pass the kidney secretions. My back ached badly when I caught cold or overworked and occasionally my right kidney ached. Working in a constant stooping position caused a strain on my back which increased my suffering. Dean's Kidney Pills, procured from the Butcher Drug Co., helped me as soon as I began to use them. I continued taking them until I felt like a different person." Statement given in February, 1908.

LATER TESTIMONIAL.
On August 14, 1911, Mr. Foulkes was interviewed and he said: "I have never suffered to any extent from kidney trouble since I used Dean's Kidney Pills. I give them the highest credit for my cure."

GAZETTE 60 CENTS A MONTH

MADE OVER A MILLION ON MINING EXCHANGE

There are still millions to be made on the Colorado Springs Mining exchange according to John T. Milliken, president of the Colorado Springs Mining Co. and regarded as a shrewd speculator in mining stocks. I have traded in millions of shares of stock on the Colorado Springs Mining exchange, and am over a million dollars ahead of the game. In the way, Milliken expresses himself in reply to a letter asking him to explain his success. In this letter, to H. McGarry, general manager of the Golden Cycle Mining Co. of some of his stock transactions, as follows:

Milliken's Letter.
St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 12, 1912.
Dear Mr. McGarry: A friend of mine has written me a circular letter of one of the things I have done in your city from 1908 to 1912.

The market is dull and much trade. Milliken seems to have been a hoodlum. As the same Elkton should be bought now as I don't believe it will go lower. Milliken seems to have been a hoodlum. As the same Elkton should be bought now as I don't believe it will go lower. Milliken seems to have been a hoodlum. As the same Elkton should be bought now as I don't believe it will go lower.

I have bought anything low as I bought 60,000 shares of Elkton and 10,000 shares of Gold Standard. I have bought anything low as I bought 60,000 shares of Elkton and 10,000 shares of Gold Standard. I have bought anything low as I bought 60,000 shares of Elkton and 10,000 shares of Gold Standard.

I am a speculator and don't deny it. I will buy and sell anything, any time at any price which in my judgment promises me a profit. I have always believed that a stock exchange wanted traders and the more they had the better the market; but it seems that the Smart Alesks and bookkeepers of the Colorado Springs Stock exchange want to drive customers away. I have traded in millions of shares of stock on the Colorado Springs Stock exchange and am over a million dollars ahead of the game.

WHITE MURDERERS OBJECT TO DYING WITH A NEGRO.
CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—Four white murderers condemned to be hanged here Friday, demand a "Jim Crow" coffin for a negro, who also is to pay the penalty of the law. Every one of the white men objects to the coffin of his life on a scaffold that holds the death drop of a black man.

The negro is Thomas Jennings, convicted on "finger-print" evidence of killing Clarence Miller, a railroad freight clerk. The white men are Ewald and Frank Schatzki, Phillip Sommerling and Thomas Schultz, found guilty of murdering Fred Guelow, a truck driver. This crime was the most cold-blooded and cruel in the recent history of Chicago.

A scaffold has been arranged so that three men may be hanged at a time. That means that either one or two white men will die simultaneously with the negro. The condemned men are fighting for precedence in the execution and against a final hour association with a negro.

Double guard was placed today upon the five prisoners. Practically all hope of executive or judicial intervention has been abandoned by the men, although their cases will be considered again by the state pardon board tomorrow.

With only four more days apparently to live the men spent the greater part of today visiting with friends and joking among themselves. Through the testing, worry was evident. They are hoping against hope that their sentences will be commuted.

The executions will be the first in Chicago for three years and will also break all records in Illinois. Double executions are exceedingly rare.

In 1887, the anarchists, four in number, were hanged, and six years ago, Robert Newcomb and John Dornhoffer, alias Miller, were executed.

The previous car barn bandits, Niedermeier, Vandane and Marx, were executed.

A DIFFERENCE OF OPINION.
From Lippincott's Magazine.

A friend once asked "Uncle Joe" Cannon for information as to the prospects of a politician who was at that time generally thought to be "on the ragged edge."

"He seems to think he's getting on all right," said "Uncle Joe," "but other entertain a decidedly different opinion. His situation brings to mind the story of the woman up in Maine. When she was asked as to the whereabouts of her husband the dame replied: "If for low is as thick as Henry thinks it is, he is skating; if it is as thin as I think it is, he is swimming."

It is proposed to select a complete ticket of presidential electors and alternates to the Chicago convention to be voted for at the Republican primary.

WHITE MURDERERS OBJECT TO DYING WITH A NEGRO

CHICAGO, Feb. 14. Four white murderers condemned to be hanged here Friday, demanded a "Jim Crow" gallows for a negro, who also is to pay the penalty of the law. Everyone of the white men object to the forfeit of his life on a scaffold that holds the death drop of a black man.

A GREAT RECORD
Hard to Duplicate It in Colorado Springs.

Scores of representative citizens of Colorado Springs are testifying for Dean's Kidney Pills. Such a record of local endorsement is unequalled in modern times. This public statement made by a citizen is but one of the many that have preceded it and the hundreds that will follow. Read it:

William Foulkes, 323 S. Cascade Ave., Colorado Springs, Colo., says: "Off and on for five years I suffered from disordered kidneys. I had headaches, was nervous and was often obliged to arise at night to pass the kidney secretions. My back ached badly when I caught cold or overworked and occasionally my right kidney ached. Working in a constant stooping position caused a strain on my back which increased my suffering. Dean's Kidney Pills, procured from the Buffalo Drug Co., helped me as soon as I began to use them. I continued taking them until I felt like a different person." Statement given in February, 1907.

LATER TESTIMONY.
On August 14, 1911, Mr. Foulkes was interviewed and he said: "I have never suffered to any extent from kidney trouble since I used Dean's Kidney Pills. I give them the highest credit for my cure."
